

1. Product name

COLLAGEN NIGHT CREAM 50ML

2. Product description

Collagen Night Cream is an intensively regenerating night cream, suitable for all skin types, particularly for dry, tired and stressed out skin, lacking firmness, freshness and vitality. The cosmetic's unique composition ensures proper nourishment, hydration and regeneration of the skin. It improves skin tension, resilience and elasticity. Owing to Collagen and Matrixyl® 3000, the preparation effectively prevents premature ageing, reduces deep wrinkles and eliminates fine lines. Lemon balm extract tones the skin and regulates sebum production. Lemon balm and D-panthenol also calm irritations and reduce proneness to irritation. The skin becomes velvety smooth and soft. It looks healthy and fresh.

5. Ingredients

Collagen – is a protein that constitutes about 30% of the total human body protein and as much as 70% of the skin protein. Collagen and elastin form a flexible mesh in the dermis, which adds elasticity and firmness to the skin and also provides support for fibroblasts. Collagen also has an extraordinary ability to bind water, thus influencing proper hydration of the skin. Collagen stimulates regeneration processes, deeply regenerates, moisturizes and improves the skin texture.

Matrixyl® 3000 – it is a modern cosmetic ingredient containing matrikines. These small particles are carriers of information about the reconstruction and repair of the skin. Because of their small size, they penetrate deep into the skin, reaching fibroblasts and stimulating their proliferation and production of extracellular matrix components: collagen and elastin, which are responsible for proper firmness and elasticity of the skin; hyaluronic acid, responsible for proper hydration of the skin, and fibronectin, whose task is to ensure proper communication between matrix components. With such comprehensive action, wrinkles become less pronounced, and fine lines smooth away. The skin becomes elastic, smooth and radiant –rejuvenated.

Aloe extract – an ingredient which is extremely rich in valuable compounds, i.e. amino acids, including exogenous amino acids forming the Natural Moisturizing Factor (NMF); A, C and E vitamins; B vitamins, and folic acid, which are all very important for skin health as well as micro- and macro-elements, including the most valuable, calcium, sodium, potassium, manganese, chromium and zinc, ensuring proper skin nourishment. Aloe extract also contains enzymes and hydroxy acids to help remove dead epidermal cells and promote epidermis regeneration, thus naturally preventing skin ageing. Aloe also contains astringents, mild disinfectants and cleaning substances. The richness of these substances provides unique skin comfort, especially for those with dry, sensitive skin, prone to irritation. By providing compounds necessary for the skin to function in the correct way, aloe extract clearly strengthens the skin and restores its firmness, elasticity and healthy colour.

Fruitliquid Noni PG – is an extract of the tropical plant Morinda citrifolia. The plant has been used for more than 2,000 years by Polynesian doctors and healers. So far, almost 100 significant ingredients have been found in Noni: from magnesium, calcium, phosphorus, copper and iron to a large content of vitamin C, provitamin A, B vitamins and a number of exceptional proteins and enzymes. The extract displays excellent nourishing, revitalizing and regenerating properties and ensures proper skin hydration.

Sojadine – an ingredient obtained from soybeans. It mainly contains phytosterols, which support the regeneration of connective tissue. They stimulate fibroblasts to produce collagen, thus visibly reducing wrinkles. Sterols are also responsible for rebuilding the skin's natural lipid barrier by ensuring proper hydration and protect the skin against harmful environmental factors. Sojadine is a natural source of A and E vitamins, which are both extremely valuable for mature skin. The ingredient soothes and calms all inflammatory conditions of the skin.

D-panthenol – is a biologically active precursor to B5 vitamin (pantothenic acid), which is present in all living tissues. It has a unique ability to bind water in the skin. It calms irritations and allergic conditions. It prevents the formation of wrinkles through skin nourishment and revitalization. It is conducive to maintaining a youthful appearance.

Lemon balm extract – the valuable properties of this herb were already appreciated in ancient Greece, where it was called "joy of the heart" or "elixir of life". Apart from a tranquilizing and harmonizing action, lemon balm also regulates sebum production, gently cleanses and calms irritations.

6. Application method

Apply a small amount of cream onto the cleansed face, neck and shoulder area and gently dab. Suitable for all seasons. Apply every evening. For best results, use with other native collagen cosmetics from the same line.
